Free trade zones seek a VAT formula

According to the statement of the General Directorate of free Trade zones, in accordance the Customs law article 158, they have seized to be flexible regarding the issue of VAT. The further went on to say that consumer goods coming into the country must have VAT on their invoices. This disagreement is due to commercially consumed products and the Undersecretary is working to resolve the issue.

Yalçındağ: Invest in Turkey for production

The president of the Turkish Industry and Business Association (TÜSİAD) Arzuhan Dogan Yalcindag, addressed Mr Bernard Wientjes, Chairman of the Netherlands Confederation of Industry and Employers, VNO-NCW along with 200 leaders of the business world. She stated that regardless of the recent economic slowdown Turkey still offers good investment opportunities. She issued the following warning based on Turkey's ascension process for the EU and its vulnerability regarding exterior economic shocks. She said that if Turkey fails in its structural reforms or if it fails in the EU ascension process the Turkish economy will plunge into a vulnerable period. Yalcindag stated that supporters in the EU are expected to help the negotiation process so that it will be a smooth transition. She stated further that investors should not only buy banks but should invest in research and development, technology and production.

Politics

Merkel: Turkey's accession process to EU should be envisioned

The German Chancellor Angela Merkel stated that it could be envisioned that Turkey will gain full membership in the European Union. However, the German Chancellor also went on to say that membership negotiations would be a "long process" and throughout this process confidence must be built upon. In regard to the tragedy in Germany involving the "suspicious" deaths of the nine Turkish citizens who lost their lives in a blaze in Germany, Ms. Merkel promised a full enquiry to establish the circumstances surrounding the deaths.

Turkey's operation to North Iraq at the end of February

The Turkish Armed Forces launched a surprise ground force operation in Northern Iraq against the PKK terrorist organization. The General Chief of Staff explained the objectives of the operation and stated that the troops will return home immediately after the armed forces achieved their aims. The particulars of the operation are;

- To disable terrorist organizations connected with the PKK and render them ineffective
- To completely destroy organizational infrastructure within the region
- To prevent terrorist bases operating within the region
- To contribute to enduring stability of a united Iraq

Turkish special forces took part in a cross-border ground operation from the Hakkari district, Cukurca on 23.02.2008 at 19.00. The operation again continued in the border districts of Uzumlu and Semdinli when troops started entering at lightning speed.

Chief of General Staff: No influence from USA

The Chief of General Staff Yasar Buyukanit announced that the USA did not influence the withdrawal of the Turkish Armed Forces from Northern Iraq. He objected by stating "Turkey is not a tribal state" This operation finished exactly as planned. At a press conference held in Ankara, lasting one and a half hours, the Chief of General Staff stated that the core camp of the PKK terrorist organization was the aim of the operation. During the operation 240 terrorists were killed, but there were more casualties since the casualties caused by the Turkish Air Force was not included in these figures. The beginning and the ending of the operation was fully coordinated, was the reaction of Yasar Buyukanit to the USA claims that the operation was terminated because of their influence.

Constitution does not allow lifting of headscarf ban

Sabih Kanadoglu, Honorary Chief Prosecutor of the Supreme Court of Appeals, said that the constitutional amendment would not free the headscarf ban. Even if the constitution is changed, this will not be enough to lift the ban on headscarves in universities. Mr. Kanadoglu reiterated that the High Court decided that the lifting of the headscarf ban is violating religious principles and the principles of equality. Kanadoğlu stated that President Abdullah Gul's statements regarding taking the headscarf issue to a referendum has destroyed the Presidency's position as a by-partisan office and that it was not possible to take an issue that covered fundamental rights and freedoms and if anyone tried to do this, they would face a strong resistance from everyone with ethical background and knowledge of law.
